Title: Lost in the forest

Danny lived with his mum in the countryside. One day, he was running around the house. He accidentally knocked over the vase and it broke. Mum came out of the kitchen. She was furious and shouted, 'Danny, how dare you broke your grandmother's favourite vase!' Mum used a broom to hit Danny and he got away immediately.

Danny ran for fifteen minutes and he realized that he was lost and hungry. He knew that he wouldn't be forgiven by his mum, so he started looking for a place to stay for a while. He saw an old cabin. He was exhausted so he went in without looking around and he saw a pile of food on the dining table. He instantly started eating. The cabin wasn't the normal old cabin. It was a witch's hut. The witch was there with her pet cat in the bedroom and the witch suddenly teleported to Danny and turned him into a pig. He looked at his hands and screamed, 'Oh, no! I'm a pig!'

He turned around and saw the witch and he asked, 'Why did you turn me into a pig?' The witch said, 'You broke into my house and started eating my food.' Then he apologized to the witch and she turned him back to normal. Finally, Danny ran back home and said sorry to Mum for breaking the vase.

Title: A story reflection

Jasper was reading a story and he shared it with Dad. The story was about a boy named Charlie. Once upon a time, Charlie was a childish boy who took care of his sheep. One day, he was bored when his sheep were eating grass. He played trick on the villagers and shouted loudly, 'Ahh! Help! Wolf is coming!' The villagers were worried and rushed up the hill.

However, they didn't see any wolves. Charlie laughed and laughed, 'Oh man! There are not any wolves! Ha! Ha! Silly guys!' Three villagers were as mad as a hornet. The younger villager sighed, 'Please don't tell lies again.' The next day was a horrible day. A wicked witch caught Charlie's younger sister. Charlie cried for help. The villagers yelled, 'Are you nuts? We are not as stupid as you!' Charlie cried more loudly. He felt helpless.

After he shared the story to his father, he said, 'The book is boring. The villagers were cruel and Charlie was too foolish not to apologize to the villagers. If I were the author, I would write that Charlie persuaded the witch to catch the three villagers instead of his sister in the next book.'

My ideal job-Be a lawyer

My name is Brian. I want to be a lawyer when I grow up because it is a meaning job. If I become a lawyer, I will help people in trouble.

Lawyers need to be smart, hard-working and calm so that they can help people in trouble. They need to wear business suits, they can make them look neatly and how their respectful in court. They have a long working hours. They usually work from 10am-18pm, but sometimes they have a lot of work so they need to work at weekends.

I think this job is suitable for me because I am hard-working, calm, smart and helpful. I like to help people. I hope I can be a lawyer one day.

There are a lot of problems in Africa. Africa always has drought problems. Food cannot be grown in this environment so people do not have enough food because the soil is too dry. Therefore, they have to starve.

First, people in Africa do not have enough money to buy some food because a lot of food is expensive. They always feel very hungry. Also, the water is too dirty. They do not have clean water so they have to drink dirty water and it causes stomachache or even have disease. In addition, they are too weak because they do not have enough food. Therefore, they are lack of energy to work and they can produce little food. Besides, there are also the problems with learning. There are very few books, so they have to share things together. The schools are too old and have very few supplies such as desks, chairs, paper, pens, etc Some of the children need to sit on the floor. The learning environment is bad.

To help the people in Africa, we can either donate money to charity or donate clothes and books to a second-hand stall. We can aslo sell flags, that is fun because you can put a sticker on people's clothes. Let's help the people in Africa who are in need. They need our help!

Title: Helpers for Charity Fun Fair

Last Saturday, Amy and her sister Penny were at Rainbow Children's Centre. They saw a poster on the wall. It was about selling cakes or cookies to raise money for charity.

After that, they found Mrs Chan at the centre. Penny said, 'Neither Amy nor I can make the cakes or cookies. Shall we run a second-hand stall? We could ask classmates to collect old books or toys.' Mrs Chan said, 'Good idea. But which do you sell, books or toys?' Penny said, 'We can sell old toys and old books.' Mrs Chan said, 'OK.'

In the end, they ran a second-hand stall for selling old books and old toys. At last, they raised the most money on Charity Day. They felt joyful.

A day tour in Hong Kong

Miss Morris was an Australian tourist visiting Hong Kong. Her friends Martin and Kelly met her in the airport. They arrived at the bus stop and Miss Morris said, 'The traffic makes so much noise and the buses produce so much smoke.'

After that, they went shopping in Tsim Sha Tsui. They went to a handbag shop. In the handbag shop, they saw some handbags which were made of crocodile skins. Miss Morris said, 'Hunters will kill crocodiles for their skins unless people stop buying crocodile skin handbags.' Next, they went to Seafood Restaurant to eat dinner. Martin and Kelly said, 'Let's eat shark fin soup. Each of the shark fin soup only costs $100.' Miss Morris did not like the shark fin soup. She said, 'Can we go to other restaurant?' Martin said, 'Okay!'

In the end, they went to another restaurant. They were happy because they helped to protect the environment. From that day on, Kelly and Martin started to do more to save the Earth.

Farewell my friend

Dear Candy,

I'm so sad that we are going to graduate. We will go to different secondary schools. We have been friends for four years!

You are so loyal. You are always by my side whenever I need you. You are a honest student too. You are able to concentrate on your work. We always have a lot of fun together. I will never forget that we joined the school study tour to Seoul together. It was a meaningful and memorable experience! We had a lot of fun. We even invited Sam to play with us, did you remember?

I hope you can be a popular actress or a famous singer someday! I wish you all the best in the secondary school! Keep in touch!

Best wishes,

Minnie

Losing the race

Jacky, Dan, Tony and Kelvin are the best friends. They are good at running and they can run as fast as lightning. One day, they wanted to join the 4X100 relay on Sports day. They practiced very hard after school. They were diligent. They set a goal that was winning the gold medal. They were full of confidence.

On the Sports day, Tony was the last runner as he was the fastest among them. They were the fastest group until Tony fell over and came last.

Tony hurt his knee badly and they lost the race. His teammate Kelvin was disappointed with him. Dan shouted at him loudly, 'How dare you! We count on you but you lose the race!' Tony cried when Jacky comforted him and said, 'Never mind! We can try it next time. The most important thing is that we all enjoy the race.'

Since that race, Dan didn't chat with Tony nor play with them. He even quit their group. They were not best friends anymore. On the other hand, Tony, Jacky and Kelvin met a new friend called Ben. Ben joined their team. The next year, Tony and Dan joined the 4X100 relay on Sports day too. Do you want to know which team won the relay in the end? See you in the next chapter.
