

Bella and Tommy are noisy

Once upon a time, Bella and Tommy played messily at home. There were a lot of toys on the floor. And one of the car toy made mum fall down. Mum was angry and she shouted, 'You two made the room so messy.'

Mum asked Bella and Tommy to tidy up the toys quickly by putting them in the box. Bella and Tommy were angry. They quarreled with each other since no one wanted to admit their mistakes and followed mum's instruction. They said, 'You do it!' 'No, you should do it!' Replied Bella.

Mum said angrily, 'You should put your toys in the toy box and you shouldn't put them on the floor.' They put the toys in the toy box obediently. They apologized to each other, and their mother as well and they were happy.

Jim's misunderstanding

Yesterday, Jim saw a lady who was trying to break in neighbour's home. Jim saw the lady who was wearing a black T-shirt and a pair of sunglasses. Jim thought the lady was a thief.

Jim immediately picked up the phone and called for help. 'Hello? Is this 999?' said Jim. 'Yes! This is 999. What can I help you?' said the police officer. 'Help! Please send some officers to my neighbour's home because I saw someone trying to break in!' said Jim. 'OK! We will immediately send some officers to your neighbour's home!' said the police officer. 'Please be quick,' said Jim.

After 10 minutes later, two police officers came and asked the woman, 'Hey! Stop right there!' They caught the lady and asked, 'Why are you trying to steal?' said the officer. 'No! I'm not! This is a misunderstanding! I was not trying to steal! This is my house!' said the lady. 'Then why do you don't use the key to get in?' said the officer. 'I didn't bring my key so I climb into my home.' Said the lady. Jim saw the mistake that he made. Jim wanted to dig a hole and hide.

At last, Jim went to his neighbor and said sorry to his neighbor. 'It's OK!' said the lady.

Our Classroom Rules

We should be a team at any time.

We shouldn't fight each other to death.

We should always be joyful.

We shouldn't shout at one another.

We should always be helpful.

We shouldn't laugh at others.

We should obey the rules!

By Simas

Missing the cake

Today is Sam 's Mum's birthday. Sam and his sister Jenny prepared a 'To do list' for each other. They were reading how to celebrate Mum's birthday. Sam was over the moon. Sam asked Jenny, 'You tidy the living room and write a birthday card, then I buy snacks, drinks and a cake, ok?' Jenny answered, 'Ok, but you need to buy Mum's favourite sausage.'

After a while, Jenny asked, 'Have you done buying the snacks yet?' Sam replied, 'Not yet. I am buying snacks and drinks. Have you cleaned the living room yet?' Jenny answered, 'Yes, I am writing the card.' Sam said, 'I have done buying snacks and drinks in ABC Supermarket.' Jenny said, 'I have already set the table, and cooked the potatoes. My stomach is growling. I'm going to eat some food.'

At night, Dad prepared the gift. Jenny prepared the food and snacks. Sam prepared the drinks. Jenny asked, 'Did you buy some new clothes for mum?' Sam said, 'Yes, I have bought it.' Dad ask, 'Where is the cake?' Sam said, 'Oh no, I forgot!' Dad was boiling mad.

In the end, Sam wanted to dig himself in a hole and hide. He learnt a lesson that he should checked the to-do list.

An unforgettable day in Disneyland

One day, Sue wanted to invite Amy to go to Disneyland with her. Sue asked, 'Have you ever been to Disneyland?' Amy replied, 'I have never been there before.' Sue says, 'Let's go there on Sunday.' They were over the moon.

Last Sunday, Sue and Amy went to Disneyland together to take some photos of the castle and the characters and buy some plush toys. They were in high spirits.

In the evening, Sue and Amy went home by train. Suddenly, Amy found out that she lost her phone. She had the butterflies in the stomach. Amy said, 'Oh no! Where is my phone?' Sue said, 'You lost the phone!' Amy said, 'Yes.'

By the meantime, Amy found her phone in her pocket. She said, 'I found it! I found it!' In the end, Amy put her phone in the pocket. They felt happy.

Visit Ma Wan Park

This morning, Gary and Patty took a ferry to Ma Wan Park. It took thirty minutes to get there. It was a sunny day so they wanted to play in Ma Wan Park. Gary enjoyed travelling by ferry so much because he liked looking at the view. Gary and Patty felt excited.

They talked about which transport they prefer taking. Gary said, 'Travelling by bus is my preference because it is cheap and comfortable.' 'However, it is cheaper and faster to go there by minibus. I prefer travelling by minibus.' said Patty. Therefore, they decided to go there by minibus.

Before having barbecue for lunch, they went to the garden to watch the plants quietly. They went to the park to play games excitedly for one hour. After playing games, they went to the picnic site to have barbecue happily. They were overjoyed and over the moon.

After a pleasant time in the park, Gary and Patty checked their watch and they were surprised to find out that it was already six o'clock. So they began to prepare to leave. However, suddenly, Gary realized his wallet was missing. This wallet not only contained his ID but also a small amount of cash and his octopus card, which made him felt very nervous and anxious. The possibility of losing these important items filled him with unease, as it would not only affect his daily life but could also lead to unnecessary trouble.

After this experience, Gary understood an important lesson that he must take good care of his belongings.

What an unforgettable Day

Last Sunday, Ken and Mum went to a cafe, when they suddenly heard a loud cry. When they heard it, their hands felt clammy and didn't know what to do.

A robber was escaping when the police arrived and started chasing him. Ken and Mum were nervous.

The robber fired his revolver and killed two police officers and Mum decided to call the police. Ken was traumatized.

After Mum was done calling the police, they heard a loud voice, 'Cut!'. The film director went into the set and Mum asked, 'Was there really a robbery?', 'No there wasn't.', replied the film director. Apparently it was all fake and they were making a scene for the new film.

In the end, Mum explained to the actual police and they made sure she wasn't a hostage. Soon she convinced the police and it was all a big misunderstanding.