

A piggy boy Danny

Once upon a time, there was a boy who was naughty. His name is Danny. He got into trouble because he broke the vase at home. Mum was very angry and shouted, 'How dare you?' Danny was scared and got away.

While Danny was walking, he got lost in the forest. He was so hungry and said, 'Where am I?' He started to look for food. Suddenly, he saw a house in the forest and he went inside. There was nobody inside. He went to the kitchen and saw a big table, there was a lot of food, He was so happy and ate all the food.

Suddenly, Danny turned into an ugly pig. He cried and said, 'Oh no! Why did I turn into a pig?'

In the end, a fairy told Danny needed to say sorry to mum to turn back into a boy. Danny went back home and said, 'Sorry, mum!' Mum replied, 'Who are you? Where is my son!' Suddenly, Danny turned back into a boy. They felt lucky.

Never tells lie

Jasper was reading a story. The story was about a boy who was dishonest. His name was Charlie.

One day, Charlie was bored when he was looking after the sheep, so he shouted, 'Help! The wolves were attacking my sheep!' The villagers heard it so they ran up the hill to help Charlie.

When the villagers went up the hill. They looked around and said, 'Where were the wolves?' 'Haha! There are no wolves, silly!' Charlie said and laughed at the villagers. The villagers were very angry and walked away.

Next day, a wicked witch caught Charlie's sister so Charlie told to the villagers but the villagers ignored him and walked away. Charlie was very sad.

After Jasper read that story, he shared the story with his father. 'Father, if I were Charlie, I would never tell lies to the villagers.' Jasper said. 'Of course, because if you always tell lies, nobody will believe in you. Well done, Jasper.' said Dad.

My ideal job – Be a pilot

My name is Amos. When I grow up, I want to be a pilot because it is a meaningful and my dream job. If I become a pilot, I will travel to different places by plane.

To be a pilot, I need to be calm because pilots need to be calm under pressure as flying can sometimes involve stressful situations. Good communication skills are essential for coordinating with air traffic control and the crew. Pilots also need to be smart because they need to know how to drive the plane. They need to have problem – solving skills because smart pilots can analyze problems, troubleshoot and implement solutions efficiently. Pilots need to be brave so that they can navigate through turbulence or storms while maintaining focus and compare and adapt to changing circumstances without succumbing to fear and panic. Pilots need to be outgoing too because they need to communicate with their crew and passengers, especially during emergencies.

I think this job is suitable for me because I am outgoing and brave. My friends and family say I am very smart and outgoing. I Hope I can be a pilot one day!

There are a lot of problems in Africa. The ground and soil are severely cracked due to drought. People have no money to buy things, which may cause damage to their health. The people are very weak because there is no clean water and food to eat. Many have been suffering from long-term malnutrition, so they have no energy to work.

In schools, the situation is also challenging. There are only a few tables and chairs, so students have to sit on the floor to study. Furthermore, there is no light, so it is very dark inside, which affects the students' ability to learn.

To help the people in Africa, we can help by donating money to organizations that provide food and clean water to those in need. Additionally, donating second-hand items can support families who struggle to afford basic necessities.

Another effective way to raise funds is by selling flags. The proceeds from such sales can be used to improve educational resources and infrastructure in schools. By taking these actions, we can make a meaningful impact on the lives of people in Africa.

Helpers At Fun Fair

Last Saturday, Amy and Penny went to the Rainbow Children centre. They were looking at a poster. The poster was about the charity Fun Fair which needed some helpers to help the event. Penny suggested joyfully, 'Oh, I want to be the helper. Let's join it!' Amy replied, 'Ok! I think it is very interesting.'

Then, they looked in detail. Soon they saw the poster wrote about finding helpers to make cakes or cookies. However, they both didn't know how to make cakes or cookies because they were bad at cooking food. They felt really disappointed and unhappy. Therefore, they wondered what they should do. They decided to find Mrs. Chan to solve the problem.

After a while, Mrs. Chan came and asked, 'What's your problem about the charity fair? Do you know how to make mouth-watering cakes or cookies?' Penny replied, 'Sorry! Neither Amy nor I can bake cakes or cookies. But we still want to be the helpers.' They felt very worried.

Eventually, Mrs. Chan suggested, 'Maybe you can run a second-hand stall. You can collect books or toys too!' After they heard this. They felt glad. Amy said, 'Shall we run a second-hand stall?' Penny replied happily, 'Let's do it.'

Protect the environment

Last Sunday, Miss Morris took a plane from Australia to Hong Kong. Her friends came to the airport to welcome Miss Morris. She felt welcomed warmly by her friends.

After they left the airport, they went to the bus stop because they wanted to go to K11 shopping centre by bus. They felt very sad because the air quality was very bad. Miss Morris said loudly, 'Oh my goddess! The traffic makes so much noise and the buses produce so many fumes.' Her friends said, 'Yes! I want to leave this place as soon as possible.' Later, the bus came.....

After a while, they arrived the shopping mall and went inside a handbag shop. They saw a lot of leather handbags. Miss Morris said angrily, 'Hunters will keep killing crocodile unless people stop buying leather handbags! People buy them which are made from crocodile skins. It was too cruel!' They felt so unhappy and went to other shop.

Afterwards, they went to the seafood restaurant. Miss Morris's friends said,

‘Let’s eat shark fin soup. It was very yummy and cheap.’ Miss Morris said, ‘People eat shark fin soup made from shark fins. However the number of sharks is dropping! Therefore let’s eat other food.’

After, they decided to eat in an Australia restaurant. They felt very joyful because the dinner was very delicious. At last, they learnt that they needed to protect the environment. Also they made a great game about reuse and protect the environment.

Farewell my friend

Dear Eason,

You are my best friend. You always do review after school. You are never lazy. You study hard.

In April, we went to a Japan trip with school. On Day 1, we took the bus to the airport. Then we flew to Naha Airport in Okinawa. After we landed, we went to Team Lak Future Park. There was a lot of technology integrated there. After we ate dinner, we checked into the hotel. On Day 2, after breakfast at the hotel, we went to visit Okinawa Churaumi Aquarium. After we had lunch, we went to Manzamoo and Observation Point in Busena Underwater Park. At night, we enjoyed dinner. Suddenly, I vomited. You saw me vomit and immediately helped me clean up the vomit. Then we went to buy Okinawa specialties snacks to bring back to Hong Kong. On the last day, we went to a Japanese Primary School. At night, we packed our bags and went back to Hong Kong. It was such an unforgettable and exciting experience.

I hope you can make more friends during your secondary school. Keep in touch!

Best wishes,

Brian
